How customer reviews and ratings work

Customers say ai,

Customers find the pressure washer easy to move around and appreciate its remarkable lightweight design. They praise its functionality, build quality, and power, with one customer noting it's more powerful on turbo than a gas-powered unit. Customers like its pressure capabilities and ease of use, with one mentioning it's convenient without a cumbersome cord. The battery life receives mixed feedback, with several customers reporting short battery duration.

15PSI

Relatively Quiet, unlike Gas Models and Works Great. Definitely Recommended.

Reviewed in the United States on March 20, 2025

Color: Gray Verified Purchase

I am unsure if it really produces 3200 PSI on Turbo as I do not have a pressure tester. But so far, I have used it a few times and the only downside is how quickly it depletes batteries. I have many EGO products and own two medium strength chargers and some EGO batteries of various capacities, as well as 2 aftermarket 5.0 aH batteries. The aftermarket batteries are about 40% of the price of EGO batteries of the same capacity and they work great ($200 for the EGO battery and $80 for the aftermarkets). So my testing of the power sprayer was done with the two 5.0 aH aftermarket batteries. After about 15 minutes using a combo of the low and high power settings, the two batteries were almost depleted. I immediately purchased 2 more aftermarket 5.0 aH batteries to extend the pressure washing time. The unit is relatively quiet and well made. I have two gas powered washers and they are now sitting unused in my shop. The pressure washer is expensive and it requires lots of amp hours, but it is great to be able to do work without the noise (and pollution) of the gas models. And yes, I would purchase this again. EGO forbids discounts on their equipment, so I purchased this from Amazon as I get 5% back with my Amazon Credit Card. Another useful tool from EGO.

Power with less noise

Reviewed in the United States on April 30, 2024

Color: Gray Verified Purchase

I sold my gas craftsman 3000 PSI for EGO 3200PSI power washer and I am happy I did. Benefits: less vibrations, less noise, way more user friendly, more features, compact, more powerful on turbo then my gas,

Cons:

It uses a lot of batteries and I mean a lot!!! I was power wash the fence with nozzle 10 and used 6 10ah batteries with 6 10ah batteries charging at the same time to always have a battery ready.

Small to medium power washing jobs it is fine. Like washing your car or using the surface sphere to clean walkways. Fence jobs like the one I did took two days and two 8 hour shifts to get it done on both sides. It did a great job. I use a lot of ego tools so I have a lot of batteries but for someone that doesn't have too many batteries just be aware IT will drain the batteries pretty fast

Close to perfect but always room for improvement

Reviewed in the United States on March 5, 2024

Color: Gray Verified Purchase

Everyone hates cords, hoses, anything that holds you back right? Even though this pressure washer has one less cord than a corded version you would be surprised at how much easier it is to use. With my old corded pressure washer, it was always getting tangled but with the Ego I haven't had any issues with that. It will run through batteries really quick on turbo mode, which of course if the most effective, so I would suggest having plenty around with a quick charger or investing in the higher capacity batteries. The turbo mode will not work unless you have at least 2 5.0 Ah batteries in the pressure washer. Depending on the time of day it is hard to see what power setting you are on both on the machine itself and on the wand. It would be nice to have a lock on the handle so you aren't having to constantly hold it to keep water flowing but it is understandable why that isn't an option because of safety concerns. The telescope handle helps a lot with its maneuverability. Comes with a foam cannon which isn't the best but works just fine unless you are someone who wants really thick foam when washing your vehicle. All in all it is a well put together machine that has made life a lot easier.

Great pressure

Reviewed in the United States on May 2, 2024

Color: Gray Verified Purchase

I live on a lake and trying to pressure wash the dock is challenging. This pressure washer does the bill perfectly. It has a very good pressure comparable to my heavy duty gas powered unit. The convenience of no gas, electrical cords, or water hoses is fantastic. I just throw the pick up tube into the lake and I have the water needed to clean the dock. The only negative comment is that the led lights on the remote control are hard to see in the sun. I also have 4 12amp batteries from my mower that give me plenty of run time. I did purchase a longer Uber flex hose and extension wands to give me more reach. One added bonus the unit is very quiet.

The best power washer I have used

Reviewed in the United States on May 14, 2024

Very well made and easy to use. It is easy to maneuver and remarkably lightweight. It has very good power with 3200 psi.

I have used both gas and electric power washers in the past and this is by far my favorite and easiest to use.

Pressure is low and batteries dies quickly even if you use upgraded 7.5 amp... ok.

After use for a few mins on a Saturday afternoon I quickly smell and see smoke coming from the pressure washer. I record this video for a few seconds turn it off and call Ego that Monday for a refund which they refuse to fulfill. They are currently CONSIDERING sending
